* Valuation method: Purchase price/receipt, expert opinion, known sales of comparable property, etc.

** For tax deduction purposes, the IRS requires a qualified appraisal for contributions of this size. Please consult your tax advisor for additional information. For Belmont gift recognition purposes, the following may be used to substantiate the value of unused items in new condition: Purchase receipts, verifiable retail or wholesale price listings, and/or an independent appraisal by a qualified appraiser as defined in IRS Publication 561. The value of other items may be substantiated with an independent, qualified appraisal or approved evidence of comparable sales.
